DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) on March 14, 2004, which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. Figures 3 and 4 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1 and 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent Number 5,985,145 to McEwen.

Regarding Claims 1 and 6, the McEwen patent teaches an input shaft 54 that rotates a ring gear assembly 56 and eccentric plate assembly 58. The eccentric plate assembly 58 includes an eccentric plate 100 that is radially eccentrically movable within bore 102 to be eccentric about a central axis 86. Column 4, lines 14-25. The "eccentric gear" as broadly stated in Claims 1 and 6 are defined as being ring gear assembly 56 and eccentric plate assembly 58. An internal gear assembly 60 includes an eccentric plate 120 which is driven on the internal circumferential surface of the eccentric plate 100 of the eccentric plate assembly 58. See Fig. 2 and Column 4, lines 31-43. The internal gear assembly 60 further includes a plurality of lobes 134 that cooperate with an output gear assembly 62. The output gear assembly 62 internally meshes with the internal gear assembly 60 with a plurality of lobes 146, the number of which is less than the number of lobes 134 on the internal gear assembly 60. See column 4, lines 54-65 and Fig. 2.

Regarding Claim 3, a pinion gear is attached to the input shaft is disposed at an outer circumferential portion of the eccentric gear and the input shaft and is placed radially outside the eccentric gear. See column 3, lines 65-68 and Fig. 2.

Regarding Claim 4, the input shaft 54 is placed in an axis parallel to the axis of the eccentric gear as shown in Fig. 2. Further, the input shaft and gear 54 is placed to be on an extension in the radial direction of the internal gear assembly 60 as shown in Fig. 2.

Regarding Claim 5, the input shaft is placed at a right angle to the axis of the eccentric plate assembly 58, and an orthogonal gear mechanism is formed by the pinion 54 and the ring gear assembly 56. See Fig. 2.

Consequently, all of the elements of the aforementioned claims are anticipated by the McEwen patent.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. U.S. Patent No. 2,488,833 to Sharp et al. teaches an eccentric gear assembly.

Facsimile Transmission

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (571) 273-8300. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission.

Art Unit: 3681

Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (571) 273-8300) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Art Unit: 3681
